

The “Auto” button is one of the Archiver’s most powerful features. Click it and the Auto-Mark screen (Figure 10K) appears. Using a fill-in-the-blanks approach, you can tell the Archiver to mark (or unmark) certain files. To back up only the files that have changed since your last backup, you might first unmark all files, then use Auto-Mark to mark all the files whose modification (“mod”) date is on or after your last backup date. You can also use this feature to mark all the files whose names meet certain criteria.
